

LICENSING

Using

We sell 100% Royalty-Free and PRO products. You can use our sound effects and music in any non-commercial, commercial and broadcast production, including:

- Film, television and radio programmes.
- Commercials.
- Podcasts.
- Games and apps.
- Software.
- YouTube videos.
- Live streaming such as Twitch.
- Blogs and websites.
- School projects.
- Presentations, conferences, exhibitions etc.
- Art installations and NFT.
- Audiobooks.
- Theatrical performances and live shows.
- Musical compositions and performances.

Sound effects and music must be embedded or synchronised with your production and not be the primary value of your project (in a sound effect app for example). You are allowed to edit the sounds to fit them to your project and mix them with other sounds to form new sounds. However you must not redistribute and earn money on the sounds outside of your production. You can earn money when you use our products in your project. If your intended use for our sounds isn't listed above and you are unsure, please contact us.

What you can't do:

- Our sound effects and music must not be shared with any person.
- Our sound effects and music must not be distributed in any form including on other websites, on social networks, file sharing platforms, CD, DVD or any other ROM.
- Our sound effects and music can not be loaned, rented, sub-licensed or sold to any third party.
- Our sound effects and music can not be edited to form new sound effects for sale or distribution outside of your project.
- Please do not share or share links to download our sounds and music to YouTube or any other video or audio network where the primary value is to share our sounds or music outside of a production.
- You can not remix our music including adding new instrumentation to form a new music composition.
- You may not use our sound effects or music files in a physical product such as a toy without a separate Agreement. Please contact us.

Accessing our sounds and music

You may access and download our sound effects and music files only from within your Sound-Work account. You may not allow any third party access to your account to access and download our sound and music files. You may not use any scripts, bots or any form of automated process to access our sound effects or music files.

Copyright

Our sound effects and music are licensed to you, not sold on a non-exclusive basis in accordance with the terms of this agreement. No intellectual property rights are transferred to you. Therefore our sound effects and music can be used royalty free in your projects, but we or our contributors retain all copyrights.

Sound-work.com provides the sound effects and music files on this website on an as-is basis and provides no warranties or conditions of any kind. While we have taken absolute care and precautions to ensure the sound effects we provide are error free, we will not be liable for any loss or damage to your systems as a result of downloading and using our sound effects.

Limitation of Liability

The Licensee agrees that sound-work.com holds no liability with regards to any claims made in relation to this agreement.
